Annual Health Meeting Is Set

The annual meeting of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association will be held as a dinner meeting at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on Monday evening, February 15, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Francis M. Pottenger, medical director of the Pottenger Sanitorium and Clinic for Diseases of the Chest, of Monrovia, will speak on "The Communities' Responsibility in the Control of Tuberculosis." A motion picture will be shown giving the story of how this control can be made possible in San Mateo county.

Invitations have been sent to citizens affiliated with the tuberculosis association, but the general public is invited to attend the dinner or the program, which will begin at 8:30. Dinner reservations at $1 can be made by mailing a post card to the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Redwood City, or by phoning Redwood 1687.

Werders to Attend L.A. Fire Convention

Fire Warden Bert Werder and his son and chief deputy, Ernest Werder, have been given permission by the board of supervisors to attend the February 12-13 Catalina Island convention of the state foresters and fire wardens. After the convention, an annual affair, the wardens and rangers will go mountain goat hunting in remote sections of the island, according to plans of Spencer Turner, Los Angeles county fire warden and host at the convention.

Airport Bought At San Carlos By Plane Firm

Assembly and Testing Of Tacoma Firm's Ships Planned

Purchase of the San Carlos Airport and a portion of the adjacent K. A. Winter subdivision to use as an airplane assembly plant for the Olympic Aviation Company of Tacoma, Wash., was announced Wednesday in San Carlos by Davis and Watts, real estate brokers who consummated the transaction.

Testing of the planes assembled there will also take place at the airport, which has an 1800-foot runway, N. E. Davis of the real estate firm said. The company manufactures both open and cabin-type monoplanes with a price range from $1,000 to $3,000, Davis said he had been informed.

ALTERATIONS UNDERWAY

Already alterations are underway at the airport under direction of C. E. Manhart, manager, to prepare the buildings for use. The port has hangar accommodations for six ships.

While manufacture of planes here is not contemplated at present, the parts will be shipped in from the main factory, assembled and the planes tested and marketed here, Davis said.

TO EMPLOY NEARLY 50

Some 40 workmen and eight master mechanics will be employed at the factory, it is expected, the mechanics being transferred here from Washington. Actual assembly operations are expected to be underway within 30 days.

The 20-acre airport was formerly operated by Capt. Charles Cooley. It is on the Old County road adjoining the Harbor Addition subdivision, now being rezoned for residential use. Amount involved in the purchase was not disclosed.

Barbers Jump Prices To Former Levels

A price increase was announced Wednesday by barbers in Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont. New rates for haircuts will be 65 cents: shaves, 35 cents; ladies' trims, 35 cents, and children's haircuts, 50 cents.

"These were the old standard prices," E. J. Springer of Redwood City, representing the barbers, explained. "The barbers feel they are justified in raising their prices back to the old level since everything else has taken an advance in price."

Burlingame and San Mateo have maintained the higher rates for some time, Springer said.

SUPERVISORS SOON TO MEET IN AFTERNOON

Ordinance for Orphan Care Also Passed For County

An emergency ordinance giving San Mateo county supervision over orphan-boarding homes was in effect today and another new ordinance setting up procedure for the board will take effect in 30 days, as the result of action taken by the supervisors late yesterday at an adjourned session.

The procedure ordinance, setting time of board meetings as Wednesday at 1 p.m., was passed over the protests of San Mateo county newsmen, who reasoned that with afternoon meetings the public would not get reports of the supervisorial sessions until the next day through the local press.

Board members desired the afternoon meetings, they said, so they could have conferences with the county manager and department heads in the forenoon before going into their sessions. Continuing morning meetings would necessitate their holding such caucuses and discussions the afternoon before, they said, forcing them to attend two meetings a fortnight instead of one.

Other features of the procedure measure include limitation of board meetings to "the regularly designated place"; creation of the following committees: parks, welfare and health, ordinance, personnel, public buildings, roads and highways, and utilities; and establishment of the custom of referring all business to the county manager or the appropriate committee or department head for investigation, report and recommendation, except business of special urgency. The personnel committee is an addition since the ordinance was first framed.

CAUCUSES PLANNED

Provision is also made in the ordinance that prior to meetings, the board shall assemble to discuss the agenda, so as to be able to consider matters more intelligently at meetings to follow. No official action may be taken at these conferences.

The sheriff or his deputy will be ordered to appear at the board sessions as "sergeant-at-arms," charged with maintaining order and preventing heckling or use by spectators of boisterous, profane or foul language, with violation of this provision a misdemeanor, according to another ruling in the measure.

The other ordinance, latest development in the county social service situation and a direct result of revelations concerning a 15-year-old girl mistreated by her foster father, creates "an approved and accredited county inspection service to be maintained over licensed homes."

Under provisions of the ordinance, all boarding homes for children must obtain a written permit from the county department of health and welfare, which shall have the power to supervise sanitation, morality and comfort of the homes and to revoke the permits should living conditions in the homes be unsatisfactory. The right to inspect the homes was given to officers of the department.

SLIDE CLOSES ROAD

Damaged by a huge slide, the Edgemar-Thornton section of the Ocean Shore highway was closed to traffic today, according to County Engineer U. S. Marshall. Other county roads closed as a result of recent heavy rains are the Alpine road between Memorial and Shrine parks, and the upper section of the King's Mountain road.

Project Cost $4,516,300

An entirely new development in the efforts of both San Francisco and the peninsula to secure rapid transit, a proposal to construct a new thoroughfare between Third and Fourth streets in the Bay City was under consideration today.

Estimating cost of the project as $4,516,300, Chief Administrator Alfred J. Cleary recommended construction of the new street as his idea of how to relieve the traffic problem.

He also recommended to the San Francisco supervisors extension of Fifth street across Market, but hedged this recommendation with the statement that it presented numerous difficulties.

The new street between Third and Fourth would run from Brannan to Market, with an angle turn into Grant avenue.

The administrator's proposals will be considered as a special order of business at next Monday's meeting of the board of supervisors.

Cleary's list of advantages for the "Third and a half street" were:

1. It would give the most rapid approach to the center of the shopping district.
2. It would interfere less with Market street vehicular traffic north and south.
3. It would interfere less with Market street pedestrian traffic.
4. It would result in greater enhancement of South of Market property values.
5. It would connect the bridge terminal directly with Grant avenue, widest street in the shopping district.
6. It would cause less traffic congestion in the triangular district proper.
7. It would provide a fire barrier in the thickly congested South of Market area.
8. It would be of greater convenience to peninsula traffic, and peninsula population has increased four times faster than East Bay population.

Cleary said financing could be handled by a bond issue, an assessment district, a combination of both, by allocation of gas tax funds subject to revision of commitments already made by the supervisors, or by a direct tax included in several annual budgets.

Board Straightens Beer Bond Tangle

Because Supervisor Fred Beer was re-elected before the expiration of an office bond written two years ago, and a new bond was issued upon his re-election, the board of supervisors has authorized Chairman Hugh H. Smith to sign a release on the four-year bond written two years ago.

Beer explained that a "competent authority" should sign the release, and amid some hilarity, the supervisors agreed that their chairman would be that person. The action will permit cancellation of the earlier bond, and leave Beer under the new one which was written upon his re-election last November.

New Dirigible Held Certain

Belief that the navy will recommend construction of an airship this year to tenant again the vast Moffett Field hangar now operated by the army was expressed before a meeting of the Bay Region Aviation Committee in San Francisco Monday by W. S. Culbertson, resident Washington representative of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Culbertson said, however, that it is unlikely the ship will be built at the Sunnyvale base, as has been suggested, because increased costs necessary to transfer equipment now at Akron, O., would be prohibitive.

Three bills, one of which was submitted by Rep. John J. McGrath of this congressional district, call for immediate building of one or more of the floating leviathans of the air.

The move, backed by the Durand committee's recommendation that the navy's lighter-than-air program be resumed, and expected recommendations of navy officials will result in authorization of one of the measures, Culbertson believes. No hearing on the proposals are slated until March, he said.

Deny Frazer Case Retrial

Two motions for a new trial in the James Frazer estate case were denied here Monday by Judge Maxwell McNutt, and a petition for final distribution of the $240,000 estate was continued four weeks pending settlement of a real estate deal in Palo Alto.

Attys. John Taaffe and George Harris made one of the futile new trial bids, while I. M. Golden made the other. The attorneys had charged that forged and false testimony had been presented in the estate fight, which was won by 18 heirs represented by Atty. Nelson H. Tunicliff of San Mateo.

All the heirs except two, residents of New York, are living in Ireland and England.

Dance to Aid 'Y' Boys Attend Parley

Plans for attending the statewide "Hi-Y" boys Easter conference at Yosemite March 22-26 were discussed at a meeting of 25 Redwood City "Hi-Y" boys this week at the high school, President James Argo presiding.

To help defray the expenses for the trip, a dance at the high school will be sponsored by the "Hi-Y" following the South San Francisco-Sequoia basketball game February 19, it was announced.

At least a dozen boys are expected to attend the Yosemite conference, with two automobile loads already set to make the outing where winter sports and campfire story telling will be featured.

Charter Shift Held 'Junking' Of County Law

Smith Sees No Chance For Peterson's Proposals

"If the people of San Mateo county vote to make the office of county executive elective, it will be a big surprise to me and will result in practically junking the charter and embroiling the position in politics."

Thus did Board Chairman Hugh H. Smith Monday express his opinion on the move of former Assemblyman Frederick Petercon of Burlingame to have the office and others made elective, as they were before adoption of the charter.

Smith went on to say that the supervisors had been laboring under no misapprehensions over their inability according to law to appoint a successor to Walter T. Kellogg until his term expires May 29, as pointed out Saturday by Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Sullivan.

"We intend only to name an 'appointee-designate'," Smith said, giving as his own opinion that the county executive successor will not be named before March 1.

PUSHES PETITION PLANS

Meanwhile Peterson, who withdrew his application for the managerial post because it was "appointive and he wouldn't hold such a position in this county," mapped the course of petitions for an amendment to the charter.

The 500 petitions, making the manager post elective as well as that of coroner, tax collector, treasurer, recorder and engineer, will be ready by the end of February. Upon their presentation to the board, the supervisors would have to call an election within 30 to 60 days, and then 10 more days would be necessary for canvassing the election, Peterson said.

The amendment, if approved by the electorate, would then go to the state legislature. Peterson said he believed the session would last until the middle of June, at least, affording ample time to have the measure approved.

JUDGE CLAY TO LOSE COURT, TWO CLERKS

Wade H. Clay, justice of peace of the first township, police judge of Daly City and city attorney of Lawndale, will be stripped of one of his courts and both of his clerks.

Upon recommendation of Board Chairman Hugh H. Smith, head of the finance committee, the board of supervisors agreed Monday to take this action, which Smith said would result in a saving of more than $3000 yearly in the salary budget.

Smith in making his suggestion that the first township justice of peace court be conducted like all the others in the county, stated that he believed that the many outside activities of Clay, who also conducts a private legal practice besides his judicial duties, made necessary the employment of the clerks.

Young Sentino Wins $1149 Settlement

Pending approval of the county superior court today is an out-of-court damage settlement for $1149 between Gregory Sentino, 19, Redwood City and Manny and Jack Charnow of Burlingame, growing out of the death of Louis Sentino, 71, Redwood City tannery worker killed here December 26 when struck by a car driven by Jack Charnow and owned by Manny Charnow.

INCENDIARY FIRE RAZES LANDMARK

Believed of incendiary origin, fire which broke out in the unoccupied two-story shingle house at 855 Roosevelt avenue at 7 o'clock Monday night destroyed the old landmark.

Known as the William Gillespie place, the house was a roaring mass of flames when the fire department arrived, so rapidly did the building, tinder dry despite recent rains, burn. Early arrivals at the fire reported hearing an explosion.

While firemen were pouring three streams of water on the inferno, a second alarm was sounded, at 7:10 o'clock. Two of the city's trucks, one drawn from the Roosevelt avenue fire, patrolled the vicinity of Katherine and King streets, from whence the alarm was telephoned, for some 15 minutes, unable to find any fire.

Later firemen learned that a resident of the vicinity, whose name was not learned, had sounded the alarm when he looked out his window and saw the Roosevelt avenue fire over another home and believed the nearby house was in flames.

"The whole roof appeared to be afire," one of the city's firemen quoted him as saying.

While the Roosevelt avenue home, owned by the San Francisco Water Department for nearly two years since the Hetch Hetchy line was laid through the front yard of the place, was destroyed, actual monetary loss was not expected to approximate any large amount because of the nature of the deserted dwelling, which, neighbors said, had not been occupied for many months. The fire was brought under control quickly. Lights within a block were extinguished during the fire.

Set among palm and oak trees, the old home was at one time a fine residence. Until a few years ago the place was used as a dairy. It was later purchased in part by the City of Redwood City and the municipal night ball grounds built thereon. Neighbors said they had at various times seen lights in the house, believed carried either by children or transients.

Man Admits Car Homicide

Pleading guilty to a charge of negligent homicide in connection with the traffic death of Mrs. Frances Gustafson, 54, San Francisco, Max Steffen, 26, Palo Alto dairyman asked Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt to grant him probation here Monday his plea being continued three weeks.

The district attorney's office, represented by Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis Demattеis, dismissed a charge of manslaughter also pending against Steffen.

Mrs. Gustafson was killed January 2 in a headon collision at South San Francisco, where Steffen, according to police testimony was being pursued for speeding at the time of the fatal smashup.

Port Dredging Bids Expected During March

New Phases of Harbor Development Move Ahead Here

Development of Redwood City's port moved nearer Tuesday on two fronts although the third phase—that of the wharf and transit shed—remained stationary as a result of the recently-ended maritime strike.

Acting City Manager C. L. Dimmitt announced that the city had deposited with the U. S. War Department in San Francisco a check for $94,000 as its share of the cost of dredging Redwood Creek and a turning basin. Dimmitt also said that contract forms had been completed for submission to the PWA for its approval for the rest of the work at the harbor not being done by the Healy-Tibbitts Construction Company.

EQUAL AMOUNT FROM U. S.

The war department had previously received authorization from Washington to advertise for bids for the dredging work as soon as the city's money, made available by sale of harbor bonds, had been deposited. The government is to put an additional $94,000 with the city's money to pay for the dredging.

Bids for the work will be sought for sometime next month, Dimmitt said, with work expected to be begun shortly afterwards. The dredging will deepen Redwood Creek, on which the wharf is to be located. Beyond that (nearer the local harbor) the creek is shallow due to an island, which will be virually removed by the dredging.

RESUMPTION DUE SOON

The contract to be submitted to the PWA for approval provides for construction of a water supply line from Redwood City to the harbor; a paved roadway into the wharf and a paved area adjacent; an office building inside the transit shed; plumbing and sewage; an automatic sprinkler system in the shed; electric lighting and power for the shed, Dimmitt said.

The Healy-Tibbitts work of building the wharf and transit shed was held up by the maritime strike but will be resumed as soon as material, now under order, can be secured.

Merriman Roebuck of Nacogdoches, Tex., received a letter from an uncle recently relatives had not heard from him for 60 years.

Finger-Printing Identification Is Talk Subject

A. H. Sagehorn urged finger-printing as the best of the four common methods of identification—the others being handwriting, photography, and measurements—in a speech before the Toastmasters Club at their Monday night's meeting at the Social Hall of the Methodist Church.

Finger-printing, Sagehorn said, is the surest, quickest and cheapest means of identification. He urged civil finger-printing.

Other talks were given by Duncan Reynard, "The Mystery Solved," explaining how to read gas and electric light meters"; Michael Hoffman, "Retail Store Operation"; and C. E. Holt, "Streamlining," in which he set forth the practicality of the design and concluded that it would have been used sooner had the public been ready for it.

Eight Citizens Will Be Named On Fiesta Body

A preliminary step to the staging of the 1937 county fiesta was taken Wednesday as the district attorney's office began drafting an ordinance, ordered by the board of supervisors, setting up the fiesta organization and enlarging the festival's commission.

The board of supervisors, which has tentatively decided to place eight citizen representatives on the commission, instead of seven, ordered the ordinance drafted at a "discussion meeting" held in the courthouse last night.

In the early afternoon the supervisors held an adjourned session at which they canvassed the votes of the junior college consolidation election.

Drawing up of the fiesta ordinance is an annual step. The other members of the fiesta commission will be Pansy Jewett Abbott, county school superintendent, and Controller Edward Stack and possibly the new county executive. On this last point, according to Supervisor Fred Beer, the board has not yet decided.

The ordinance is expected to be submitted to the board next Monday.

Beer said the board hoped to retain as many members as possible of the last year's commission. Several of the members, however, including Judge C. A. Shurtleff of Menlo Park, wished to retire.

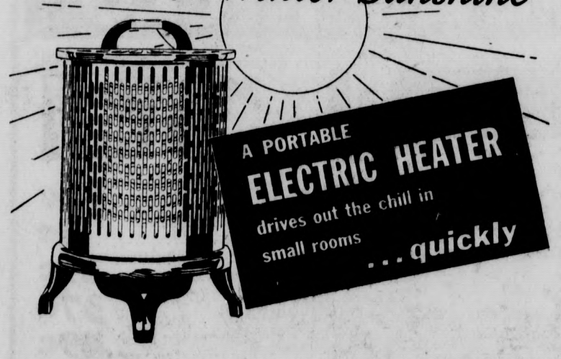
...Turn on Winter Sunshine



"TURNING ON winter sunshine" is what more than 100,000 California families call their handy electric heaters. With electric heat you can dress in comfort, warm your body and your clothes in the mornings. You can thaw out the bathroom while you bathe and shave. Your home should have one or two of these quick-acting electric heaters.

Act now. This is the final month of the Special Terms of One Dollar Down and One Dollar a Month on these guaranteed electric heaters. These liberal terms are subject to credit approval.

Here is a new small room heater. Warms up the bathroom or den quickly.

Government Posts In Engineering Open

The United States Civil Service Commission announces open competitive examinations for the positions of rodman and chainman. Vacancies as they may occur in these positions in the U. S. Engineer Service, Bureau of Public Roads, and other government services in Arizona, California and Nevada, at $1,260 a year, and future vacancies as they may occur in positions requiring similar qualifications in the same states at approximately the same rate of pay, will be filled from these examinations, unless it is found in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement, transfer, or promotion. Salaries are subject to a deduction of 3½ per cent toward a retirement annuity.

The necessary forms may be obtained from the secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Post Office Building, Redwood City.

CLUB DONATES FLOOD FUNDS

Flood relief funds for the Middlewest were swelled by another $10 today, given by the Greater South Redwood Improvement Club to the Red Cross, Mrs. Mary M. McCleary, treasurer, reported.

Possible Vote Hinders Action

The director of the county budget—a new position to be created by ordinance of the board of supervisors—will not necessarily be the future county executive, although the board hopes that he will be.

Board Chairman Hugh H. Smith made this clear today as he admitted that the budget commission contemplated by the ordinance, which will be up for passage Monday and provides for the director to serve with two county officials, is aimed at giving the executive-appointee a chance to work on the budget before he can actually assume the position of county executive.

"Because of the possibility of petitions being circulated seeking an election to make the post and others elective, we may not be able to secure the man we would want as county executive to take the budget position," Smith said.

"But, regardless, we intend to get a budget director, perhaps an expert accountant trained in such work and who could remain on the job for a month or so while whipping the budget into shape," the chairman said.

Naming an accountant for the position will be extremely probable in the case that an election ties the hands of the board in naming a successor to Walter T. Kellogg, who, by the charter, retains the post until his term is ended May 29, it was indicated.

The supervisors are in accord that whether the man who works on the budget is to be the future executive or not, the budget must be worked on by a trained man, Smith said.

Meanwhile Ernest A. Rolison, former city manager of Redwood City who now holds a federal post in Washington; Earl P. Wilsey, city manager of San Mateo, and Hollis Thompson, city manager of Berkeley, remained the leading candidates for the position of budget director, if they would take the position in view of uncertainties surrounding their chance of later stepping from the budget position into that of county manager.

Smith's uncertainty over whether the board would be able to select the future county manager as budget director hinted that the board will not take action Monday on naming the director, possibly only passing the ordinance which will enable them to act on the budget post later.

FIREMAN CALLED TO HOUSE

Redwood City firemen were called late Saturday to 308 Elm street, when a wood block lodged behind the fireplace shield was found to be burning, causing residents to believe flames had caught between the walls. No damage was reported.

ONE MAY BE 'BUDGET DIRECTOR,' THEN MANAGER

With selection of a budget director for San Mateo county likely to be made by the board of supervisors Monday, speculation is rife as to whether one of these men will be appointed to the newly-created post, subsequently becoming county manager when Executive Walter T. Kellogg's term expires, or whether another person will be named solely to prepare the budget. Pictured above are, left to right, former City Manager E. A. Rolison of Redwood City, now in Washington with the REA; City Manager Earl P. Wilsey of San Mateo, and City Manager Hollis Thompson of Berkeley. Rolison still is believed strongly favored by three supervisors—James S. James, Fred Beer and John W. Poole. Thompson has active backing of Board Chairman Hugh H. Smith and possibly of Alvin Hatch. But Wilsey is regarded by all as a capable executive and may win the $6000-a-year position in a compromise.

PATROLMAN, OTHERS HURT IN ACCIDENTS

Five Injured in Crash At Mills Hospital In San Mateo

The fourth week-end to pass without a traffic fatality on San Mateo county's highways Saturday and Sunday brought critical injuries, however, to many persons, victims of spectacular accidents.

One of the injured was Harold Varni, 35, of Colma, member of the California Highway Patrol, who incurred concussion of the brain and lacerations of the scalp Sunday when his motorcycle collided in South San Francisco with a car driven by Cecil Ramsey, 34, also of Colma.

Varni, who was taken to South San Francisco Hospital in a semi-conscious condition, had recovered sufficiently today to be removed to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, it was reported by Acting Patrol Capt. Otto Schramm, in charge during the absence of Capt. Paul Perussina, attending a traffic school in Sacramento.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED

San Mateo's fire department had to be called Sunday night to extricate victims from the tangled wreckage resulting from a terrific collision in front of Mills Memorial Hospital. Five persons were injured in the crash, and John Murray, 49, business agent of the San Francisco Carpenter's Union, was charged with drunken driving. He was freed on posting of $250 bail.

Also injured in the crash was his passenger, Edna Hubbard of San Francisco, and three persons in the other machine: Keith D. Babb, 35, of San Jose, who was cut and bruised; his wife, Hazel, who incurred serious rib fractures, and their three-month-old daughter, Hazel, who had both legs broken. All the injured were treated at Mills Hospital.

Three Classes At Night School Suffer Changes

Changes in three of the classes of Sequoia Evening High School were announced today by Night School Principal S. S. Mayo.

The current events class, which had been meeting on Wednesday, has been changed to Tuesday evenings, between 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

The mathematics class has been discontinued, the instructor, G. O. Vaughn, being ill. Because attendance in this class has fallen off, no new instructor has been secured. However, if a demand for work in mathematics is found, a new instructor will be secured, according to Mayo.

Because the instructor of the Spanish class, Mrs. Mary Campion, is moving away and a new teacher has not been secured as yet, no meeting of the Spanish class will be held this week. Mayo reports, however, that it is expected that a new teacher will have been secured in time for next week's class meeting.

The women's physical education class, which meets Monday and Thursday evenings, is reported to be drawing a good crowd and is concentrating at present on volley ball and badminton.

Karen Morley, wife of Director Charles Vidor, lives on a cliff estate overlooking the sea, with only one entrance from the land side. When the iron gates are opened, a loud gong rings, dogs bark, and servants are warned.

WERDER SON IN GAME JOB

Lawrence Werder, one of Fire Warden Bert Werder's three sons and a former foreman in a San Francisco canning company, has taken over a new job, that of fish and game warden at Guadalupe, west of King City. He will be engaged in trapping work there, and later on at the San Simeon ranch of William Randolph Hearst.

The principal exports of Guam are copra and coconut oil.

Subdivision Approved By City's Planners

Redwood City's planning commission, at a session Monday night in the firehouse, gave approval to a plan to subdivide into a half dozen lots an acre of land in Woodside Acres by U. L. Burnyard and rejected an application of Emil Steinegger to construct a wooden building on El Camino Real at Jefferson avenue on the grounds that such a structure would be in violation of the city's building ordinance requiring "Class C" construction on the highway. The planners also discussed, without taking action, the impending removal of the Southern Pacific depot to the opposite side of the tracks from where it is now located.

P. G. & E. ARGUMENTS SET

Oral arguments over price to be fixed for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's distribution system in Redwood City so that the city maay decide if it wants to purchase it have been set for Tuesday, February 23, at 10 a.m. before the California Railroad Commission sitting en banc in San Francisco.

House Being Moved Back

Construction work on the widening of El Camino Real between the outskirts of Redwood City and Broadway was underway today, with workmen removing trees and preparing to move back one house located on the new right of way.

Preliminary work consisted in chopping down large trees bordering El Camino Real, removing the wood and extracting the stumps through use of tractors and dynamite. Traffic was occasionally halted as the stumps were broken up and taken out.

The house being moved away from the right of way is located on the northerly corner of El Camino Real and Finger avenue.

Palm trees in the garden of the Catholic Church are also being cut down. The widening right-of-way will compel some changes also in the facade of the church. Several other houses, most of them on the west side of the highway, will be affected by the broadening work.

Widening of the Beresford-Redwood City section began some time ago nearer San Mateo.

It is hoped that continuance of the widening from Redwood City south to Five Points, at least, and possibly to Palo Alto, will be effected during the next biennium.

The state highway commission has assured peninsulans that the work will be done if "overage" funds—unexpected surpluses—become available.

Judge Clay Answers Hugh Smith Charges

Judge Wade H. Clay fired back today at the board of supervisors which is seeking to strip him of his two clerks and one of his offices, asserting that with one court he would not be able "to give good service" to the northend communities.

He pointed out the fact, in answer to Chairman Hugh H. Smith's charges that Judge Clay's court expenses are excessive, that he has taken in $25,000 in fines during the past two years.

Menlo Park Schools Reopen After 'Flu'

The two Menlo Park grammar schools—Central School and Fremont School—reopened Monday after having been closed for a week because of an influenza epidemic. The epidemic had caused a drop in attendance of 80 per cent among the pupils of both schools.

Although a good attendance by the pupils was reported yesterday, W. S. Bowers, principal, is suffering from the "flu," and his work is being carried on by Blanche E. Clarke, vice principal.

Contest over custody of Raymond John Blick, 14-year-old San Mateo youth whose father, Walter Blick, charges that his mother's family "taught the boy to lie," stood continued today to Monday, when Superior Judge A. R. Cotton will resume hearing the trial.

Holographs are manuscripts or documents altogether in the handwriting of the author or originator.

NEGRO BOXCAR MURDER VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED

Through fingerprints, the body of the Negro found murdered Monday in a Brisbane boxcar was identified Wednesday as that of Joseph Davis, 37, a man who had left a long string of misdeameanor convictions behind him and had served time in Stockton, Fresno, San Joaquin county and San Francisco jails.

As San Francisco police made the identification Sheriff James J. McGrath announced that he expected "a good lead" to result in the near future in arrest of two men believed responsible for the clubbing-slaying, which followed a hobo jungle fight over "mulligan" stew.

WATER RIGHTS GRANTED

Clearing the way for construction of a 500,000-gallon reservoir at Memorial Park, Engineer U. S. Marshall has been informed by the state water rights division that the county would be permitted to take 225,000 gallons daily from Pescadero creek, thus solving the park water problem. The tanks and pumps will be built by WPA labor.

Friendly Indian Club Planning Hike Soon

The Aztec Friendly Indians under the leadership of Norbert Lambert have been meeting regularly each Monday in their club room in the First Congregational Church. The boys have taken as their chief objectives, character development, good sportsmanship, helping others and Indiancraft.

Among the many Indian things the boys have made are shields, blankets, tom toms, bows and arrows. A candy sale was held and the $7 netted to buy materials for craft work.

A hike and weiner roast is planned in the near future. The following are members: Raymond Reese, J. Dean Allison, Elmo Serpa, Carl Sears, Robert Maguiness, Lewis Gunn, George Small, Chester Serpa, Clifford Ramos, Henry Thomas, George Kreiss, Donald Brown, Richard Tennant and George Granger.

The digger wasp takes a small pabble in its jaws to beat the earth hard on top of its nest.

Transient's 'Fortune' Is Only Camp Hoax

Story of a $500,000 fortune reportedly left in England to Thomas Griffith, 40-year-old worker at the Memorial Park Unemployment Relief camp, was branded a "hoax" and a camp rumor today by Lucien P. Hart, director of the camp.

He denied that any telegram had been received by him, notifying him that Griffith had been left the fortune under the condition that "he must marry" and change his religion, as it was reported here yesterday through the county engineer's office.

Griffith, who had left the camp for a few days but returned to the camp over the week-end, refused to comment on the strange story of his purported inheritance—apparently a camp joke.

Pursuant to Statute and to the order adopted on the 18th day of January, 1937, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, directing this notice, said Board invites and the undersigned will receive at his office in Redwood City, in said County, up to the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., on Monday, the 15th day of February, 1937, sealed proposals or bids for illuminating by means of electric energy and lamps on the public highways in said Lighting District, all in accordance with certain plans and specifications heretofore adopted by said Board now on file in the office of the Clerk and hereby specifically referred to, the kind and character of lamps required being the following, to-wit:

39—50 watt Overhead Street Lights without refractors.
5—100 candle power Overhead Street Lights with refractors.
1 Neon sign.

all to be installed, cared for and maintained by the successful bidder at a rate per month per lamp at which the lamps specified and all lamps hereafter ordered will be so installed, cared for and maintained.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid a check payable to the order of the Board of Supervisors of said County, certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall be not less than ten (10) per cent of the aggregate of the bid made, conditioned that the successful bidder will, if awarded the contract, enter into it, and upon the performance thereof, within 90 days from date of such award and will faithfully perform the same.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, provided that the rate bid and to be paid shall not exceed at any time the rate paid by said County for highway lighting in other portions of said County. The rate to be paid will not be fixed for a term in excess of five years. The Board reserves the right to abrogate any such contract whenever gas or electric current is offered to be supplied at two-thirds of such fixed price.

Dated at Redwood City, California, January 18, 1937.

ORDINANCE No. 446
AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE ESTABLISHMENT, MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION OF HOMES FOR CHILDREN.

WHEREAS, it has come to the attention of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo that there are a number of boarding houses, homes and other places for the reception and care of children that have not strictly complied with the provisions of the law of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, this Board deems it necessary that an approved and accredited County inspection service be maintained over licensed homes; and

WHEREAS, this Board of Supervisors deems that this ordinance is necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that it is HEREBY ORDAINED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo as follows:

SECTION 1. Any person who without having first obtained a written permit so to do from the Department of Health and Welfare of the County of San Mateo, establishes, maintains, conducts or manages any institution, boarding house, home or other place for the reception or care of children, or who keeps at any such place any child under the age of 16 years not his relative, apprentice or ward, without legal commitment, or neglects, refuses or omits to comply with the provisions of such permit, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 2. The said Department of Health and Welfare shall have power to issue permits for such places, and every such permit shall specify the name and residence of the person so undertaking the care of such children and the location of the place where the same are kept and the number of children thereby allowed to be received, boarded or kept therein, and shall be revocable for cause by the said Department of Health And Welfare in any case where the provisions of this ordinance are violated, or in any case where, in the opinion of the Department of Health And Welfare, such institution, home, boarding house or other place is being managed, conducted or maintained without regard for the health, comfort or morality of the inmates thereof, or without due regard to proper sanitation or hygiene.

SECTION 3. Every person holding such permit must keep a register, wherein he shall enter the names and ages of all such children and the names and residence of their parents, so far as known; the time of the reception and discharge of such children and the reasons therefor, and, also the name and age of every child who is given out, adopted, taken away or indentured from such place to or by any person, together with the name and residence of the person so adopting, taking away or indenturing such child, and within forty-eight hours after such child is so given out, taken away or indentured shall cause a correct copy of the register to be sent to the said Department of Health And Welfare.

SECTION 4. It shall be lawful for the officers and representatives of the said Department of Health And Welfare, and for all Health Officers, at all reasonable times, to enter and inspect the premises wherein such children are so boarded, received and kept, and to call for and inspect the permit and register, and also to see and visit such children.

SECTION 5. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than three (3) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force immediately.

Regularly passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, this 8th day of February, 1937, in regular meeting of said Board by the following vote:

Ayes and in favor of the passage of said ordinance:
Supervisors: H. H. SMITH
FRED E. BEER
J. W. POOLE
ALVIN S. HATCH
JAMES S. JAMES.

Noes and against the passage of said ordinance:

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Boarding CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE'S yacht, GOLDEN GULL, off Miami, to investigate the disappearance of BOLITHO BLANE, British financier and Rocksavage's chief competitor in world soap trade, Detective Officer KETTERING finds strange marks on Blane's cabin carpet and blood on the curtain.

Kettering examines all passengers including NICHOLAS STODART, Blane's secretary; Rocksavage and his daughter FERRI; LADY WELTER; REGINALD and MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF BUDE; COUNT LUIGI POSODINI and INOSUKE HAYASHI.

Kettering finds in preliminary interviews that Rocksavage sought a merger with Blane to save their companies; that Lady Welter is heavily interested; that Hayashi, Japanese agent, sought to sell a huge soap monopoly, either to Blane or Rocksavage; that the Bishop was involved in an unsavory army scandal; that Posodini is an ex-convict; that Rocksavage's former partner died mysteriously in his office.

Later, Kettering questions Posodini again, the Count admitting his police record and that Mrs. Jocelyn was "sweet on him." But he adds, "I never mix business with pleasure." Kettering at once seizes on the slip of the tongue.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

K.: You say this dame is sweet on you?

P.: Yes, she made just one darn nuisance of herself ever since the day after we put out from New York. "Oh, Count, it's such a lovely day, would you carry my rug up to the sun deck?"—"Oh, Count, don't run away, there 're so many things I want to talk to you about."—"Oh, Count, must you go below, then let's meet in the lounge before the others come up for a cocktail." Well, it's all right when you want that sort of thing, but when you don't some janes give you the willies.

K.: I get you. Now let's go back to the night in question.

P.: Well, it was this way: when we were talking in the lounge, before Rocksavage and that fellow Stodart came in, I happened to have mentioned that I had read a real good book, "The Saint in New York," it was called, by a guy named Charteris. When we came down the companion-way she said to me, "Oh, Count, I wonder if you'd lend me that lovely book you've just finished?" and she takes my arm and accompanies me along to my cabin. I handed her the book immediately we got inside but she wasn't going. Oh, no, sir, believe you me. Down she sat on the edge of my bed and engaged me in conversation. She sat there nearly half an hour, and even then I had my work cut out to get rid of her. Then I had to scram after she left, or I wouldn't have been changed in time for dinner. That's all there is to it.

K.: Right, that's fine. Now, I want to know why Reginald Jocelyn asked you to join this party in the first place?

P.: He fancies himself at poker, so he asked me along in the hope we'd be able to make a little school and brighten up the trip.

K.: Did he know that you were a sharp?

P.: Well, no, I wouldn't say that, but he's no fool, that boy, although I certainly took a wad off him when we crossed together on the Normandie. He can see as far as most people and, although he's no reason to complain, I wouldn't be surprised if he thinks my castle in Italy to be all moonshine.

* * *

K. Listen, Slick: he wouldn't have asked you to come along if he felt that way about you, and it's pretty obvious from what you say that he did. There must have been some other reason and I want it.

P.: Well, if there was, I'm not talking about it.

K.: Don't you think it would be better to do the talking quietly here with me, than to some heartless cop you'll have to spill the beans to if I send you ashore?

P.: You wouldn't do that, chief.

K.: I would, and you know it. You're due for a first class grilling, Slick, unless you come clean with me.

P.: If only you'll believe me, that's all I ask.

K.: I'll believe you all right. Now let's have it.

P.: Well, Jocelyn and I got friendly on the Normandie, and one night I asked him if he ever did a job of work, or just drifted around being the grand play boy all the time. He told me he was in Lady Welter's outfit, and from then on we got talking stocks and shares. He let it out that most of his ma-in-law's money was tied up in the Rocksavage companies and they hadn't been doing too well lately, because Bolitho Blane and his crowd had been hitting into them right and left.

At the mention of Bolitho Blane I just saw red. I've never seen the man. Honest, chief, I never have, but he did me dirt once that I'll never forget. He came on board the old Mauretania to see somebody off at Liverpool, and he noticed me among the passengers. He recognized me from a snapshot that had been taken on a previous trip when I got intimate with a friend of his and—well—you know my line of business, Chief, I had skinned that friend of his good and grand. He tipped off the purser. The purser told me, afterwards, that he had. They watched me specially during that trip and caught me out. That was the first time and the judge sent me down for eighteen months in Sing Sing.

Now, I ask you, wasn't that just a devilish trick to play? It wasn't as though I had taken a wad off Blane himself, but he must go and point me out to the purser as a suspect, and that put me behind the bars. I've always sworn that I'd get even with him one day.

* * *

K. So that's how the land lies, is it?

P.: No, no, Chief, you've got me all wrong. Didn't I say that once a guy starts talking he lets himself in. I didn't murder Blane. I give you my word I didn't.

K.: I'm not suggesting that you did, but now you've got so far you'd better give me the rest of the story.

P.: All right, then. When I went off the deep end about Blane this chap Jocelyn became mighty interested and he said to me, "Now, if you'd really like a chance to settle your account with Blane I can give it you. A little party is being arranged in about a fortnight's time in Mr. Rocksavage's yacht, for deep-sea fishing, sunbathing and that sort of thing. Blane is going to be one of the guests. Would you care to come along?"

Well, I thought that over. I didn't give Blane his, I swear I didn't. That was the last thing in my mind. But it seemed a grand opportunity to get in with the swell crowd, like this.

K.: How's the luck been running?

P.: I haven't touched a card since I came on board. There's been a little mild bridge evenings, that's all. What d'you take me for anyway? Think I'd go and spill the beans by soaking this crowd for a few grand first evening we were out of port. No, sir! That's not the kind of man I am.

K.: Has Jocelyn said anything to you since you came on board about the chance he had given you to settle accounts with Blane?

P.: Not a thing. I just took him at his word and came along and, if you want the truth, by the time we were one day out I'd just forgotten every word about that conversation in the Normandie.

K.: You do believe though that Jocelyn asked you on board principally because he knew that you had a grudge against Blane?

P.: That's God's truth, Chief—God's truth, and if you ask me something fresh must have happened to make Jocelyn so mad with Blane that he sailed in and did the job himself before waiting to see if I'd act as his catspaw.

K.: All right, Slick, that'll do now. I'll be seeing you.

232 at Teacher Meet Hear State Bills Explained

Legislation pertaining to education now pending in bills before the state legislature occupied the attention of 232 teachers of San Mateo county when they gathered in Sequoia high school cafeteria Monday for the quarterly dinner and business session of the San Mateo Teachers' Association.

Addressing the group were State Sen. Harry Parkman, who spoke on the responsibility of the legislature as regards finances; Assemblyman Harrison Call, who brought with him a file of the 4000 bills pending in the legislature and selected from the file the bills on education, discussing them for the group, and explaining the workings of the legislature and the process through which a bill must go, and Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Sullivan, who talked about the profession of teaching, in which he once engaged, its obligations, responsibilities and joys.

The speakers were introduced by Henry C. Hall, superintendent of the San Bruno schools, who, as legislation chairman for the association, acted as chairman for the evening and gave a short resume' of education bills before the state legislature. Miss Pansy Jeweft Abbott, county superintendent of schools, outlined tentative plans for the teachers' institute next fall.

Also included on the program were vocal duets by Earl Kuhn, superintendent of the Millbrae schools, and Harry Wiser, principal of the Lomita Park schools, accompanied by Berman Mendelewitz.

Mrs. Florence Mosher, teacher at the Portola School and president of the association, presided. Other association officers are Clive Saiz of Jefferson high school, vice president; and Dorothy Jones of San Bruno, secretary-treasurer.

FREIGHT CAR DERAILMENT AT BELMONT HALTS TRAINS

Sprawled across both north and south bound mainline Southern Pacific railroad tracks at Belmont, a 41-foot steel freight car Wednesday morning caused nearly a two-hour delay in local San Jose-San Francisco passenger traffic.

The accident occurred shortly after 10 o'clock, when a switch turned while a north-bound train attempted to cross over onto the Belmont spur. The front trucks of one of the middle cars went one way, the rear trucks the other, causing the car to jam diagonally across the entire railroad right-of-way.

A San Jose-bound passenger train was blocked at the Belmont station for an hour and a half, and a San Francisco train detained for about 30 minutes.

The accident was apparently caused by a defective switch, trainmen said. No injuries were reported, and only minor damage was done to the tracks, although the rear truck of the freight car was badly smashed.

Heart Attack Fatal To Former Officer

Apparently the victim of a heart attack suffered while he was washing his automobile at his home at 1606 Hopkins avenue, George Roscoe MacKenney, 60, retired San Francisco police officer who had made his home here several years, died suddenly shortly after noon Wednesday.

Mr. MacKenney, who only recently had suffered an attack of the influenza while visiting in Los Angeles, leaves his wife, Ermina, and a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Pelkey of San Francisco, to mourn his passing.

Dumbrell Jr. Seeks Ownership of House

SAN MATEO, Feb. 10.—John Dumbrell Jr., former San Mateo Junior College student whose mother, Mrs. Amy Dumbrell, shot his father to death, figured in the news again today.

Title to the home in which the slaying occurred was claimed by young Dumbrell in an action presented to Superior Judge I. L. Harris in San Francisco. Evidence was taken to determine legal ownership of the place, located at 1834 Broderick street, Dumbrell Jr. charges that his uncle, Charles Dumbrell, obtained possession by inducing the nephew and his mother to sign certain papers.

The mother was acquitted of the murder charges which grew out of Dumbrell's death.

Sequoia Mid-Winter Graduates Total 13

With the final check-up of grades and credentials completed, it was revealed today at Sequoia high school that 13 mid-winter graduates had earned diplomas from the school with the close of the first semester.

The graduates are Jack Lessard, Jane Dilg, James Bloxham, Takeshi Shiba, Arthur White, Elaine Clattenburg, Pearl Moss, Kenneth Douglass, Frank Carter, Stanley Horn, Gerald Owens, Russell Wood and Graham Hone.

One of the world's largest floating docks was recently completed in Danzig for Germany and towed to the harbor at Kiel. It is 800 feet long by 220 feet wide and has a capacity of 100,000 tons.

Gohmert Wins Court Mercy

Fred Gohmert, soft-spoken Texan who confessed to a Hillsborough taxicab holdup, gained mercy from Judge A. R. Cotton Monday, leaving him free today to return home with his mother to San Antonio, Tex.

Judge Cotton placed the dark-haired, inoffensive looking youth on five years' probation, on condition that he go back to Texas with his mother, who was present in court and rejoiced tearfully over the judge's verdict.

Judge Cotton, is was disclosed, was influenced to leniency by the favorable report of Probation Officer Francis Robinson, revealing that Gohmert had never been in trouble before and had an excellent record. Besides, Robinson said, Gohmert had made $50 restitution to the taxi driver whom he robbed last month.

The youth, according to Robinson, had pledged to go straight.

Lincoln, Railroads Topics at Exchange

Abraham Lincoln and development of railroads were the two separate topics discussed by as many members of the Exchange Club Tuesday night at the regular weekly meeting.

Deputy County Engineer W. W. Hendricks told of early railroad building experiences, and discussed the replacement of labor by modern machinery, urging club members to consider the problem of unemployment in light of development of the new methods of construction.

James M. Eva, Sequoia high school teacher, discussed Lincoln's antecedents, tracing the emancipator's family history back to the Boston Tea Party. "Lincoln was one of the most distinguished sons of two of the most distinguished families the United States had seen up to that time," Eva declared.

J. A. Buhler was chairman of the evening. Pres. C. L. Stokes presided. Chairman next week is Al Davies.

John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, both died on July 4, 1826, the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the declaration of independence. They were the only two signers to become president.

WE SUGGEST FOR

From fish food we derive many of the minerals necessary to good health; iron, calcium nitrate and abundance of the sunshine vitamin "D" so necessary to building bone tissue and white glistening teeth. Serve your family salmon, or tuna at least once a week. Lay in a generous supply now at these low prices.
